Details of Disappearance

Paul was last seen in Kenosha on January 4, 2009. Her vehicle was driven off the pier into Lake Michigan, apparently deliberately, at 3:50 a.m. The car was later recovered, about fifty feet from the end of the pier, and pulled out of the water. One of the windows was broken and there were no human remains in the vehicle. Paul has never been heard from again.

Investigators stated there was evidence that Paul had been despondent before the crash; she was having financial problems and had been evicted from her home. She left behind a ten-year-old son. She is presumed deceased.
